

CSA Convention Message Bullet Points

- On behalf of the Board of Director and staff of AHIMA, I'd like to invite and encourage you to attend the 83rd Convention & Exhibit, October 1-6, 2011 in beautiful Salt Lake City, Utah.
- Convention's theme is "Reaching New Heights in Health Information. "
- Designed to be a one-stop, weeklong focus on current and emerging issues to help HIM professionals like us gain a better understanding of changes within the healthcare industry (ICD-10, EHRs, ARRA-HITECH, RACs and privacy and security compliance).
- Be inspired both by the natural beauty of Salt Lake City and AHIMA's line up of general session speakers, including:
 - leadership guru and bestselling author Stephen M.R. Covey;
 - Gail Collins, the first woman editor of the New York Times editorial page, syndicated columnist and blogger; and
 - eight-time Olympic speed skating medalist and Dancing with the Stars champion, Apolo Anton Ohno;
 - as well as many others.
- You'll also have the opportunity to
 - participate in educational site visits at two of the most technologically advanced healthcare facilities in the country,
 - network with HIM peers from across the globe; and
 - interact with more than 200 vendors offering solutions to assist HIM professionals manage workflow and prepare for changes in the industry.

- I encourage you to visit the AHIMA website's convention page at www.ahima.org/convention for more information.
